HOTEL
Valley Ho

A VALLEY HO HISTORY LESSON.

AN ICON THROUGH THE YEARS.

Originally opened in 1956, Hotel Valley Ho's classically cool roots make it a mid-century modern icon. The first owners built the hotel on the belief that "the important thing is to make your guest feel wanted." In its heyday, Hotel Valley Ho was a true Hollywood hideaway for guests like Bing Crosby, Tony Curtis, Janet Leigh and Zsa Zsa Gabor. After a careful and extensive renovation, the hotel was reopened to welcome a new generation of design lovers to this stylish oasis in Downtown Scottsdale.

BACK + BETTER THAN EVER.

Hotel Valley Ho shines brighter than ever with new offerings and amenities. ZuZu boasts fresh takes on classic cuisine and cocktails, our pools are go-to summer hot spots, and VH Spa invites you to relax with unique treatments inspired by exotic locales around the globe.
